Rescue Ships Standing By to Aid Rescue; Former S. A. Pastor Aboard

BULLETIN
The Rev. F. A. Wickenman, San Diego, one of the passengers aboard the S. S. Dixie, which was wrecked off the Florida coast last night, is a former Santa Ana resident.

The Rev. F. A. Wickenman, pastor of the St. Joseph's Catholic church here for several years, is now pastor of the St. Vincent's church in the southern city.

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 3.—(UP)— Hurricane-swept seas prevented rescue today of 352 passengers and crew aboard the Morgan liner Dixie, wrecked on French Reef, about 15 miles off the Florida coast.

Three vessels were standing by with boat crews ready, but the mountainous billows made a rescue attempt impossible.

The United Fruit liners Limon and Platano and the tanker Reeper arrived at the scene this afternoon and hove to.

Another Morgan liner, the El Occidente, was expected momentarily to aid in the work of transferring passengers and crew, some of whom were reported injured.

Two coast guard vessels also were en route.

The Limon was the first of the rescue ships to reach the stricken Dixie.

Rescue Impeded
Rescue had been impeded by failure of the liner property to locate itself. In its first SOS last night, the Dixie indicated it was ashore on Carysfort Reef, but when the Limon, along with the tanker Reeper and another fruit liner, the Platano, arrived at the given position, the Dixie was not in sight.

Finally, through signals sent out on the Dixie's emergency set, the Limon's skipper was able to determine that the liner actually was aground on French Reef, about 15 miles southwest of the Carysfort shoals.

An hour later the Limon reported sighting the stricken ship. Shortly thereafter, the rescue ship

STATE SALES TAX GAINS $3,485,000

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 3.—(UP)— Sales tax collections for the last quarter during which the 2 1/2 per cent rate was effective totaled $16,725,000, a gain of $3,485,000 over returns of the corresponding quarter in 1934, the state board of equalization reported today.

The new rate of 3 per cent, with foodstuffs exempted, became effective July 1.

Total yield of the tax during the first six months of 1935 was $31,429,000. The board estimated the yield for the last half of the year would be 10 per cent less because of the exemption of foodstuffs which was not expected to be offset by the increased rate.

CITIES IN NEW MEXICO AND TEXAS THREATENED BY HIGH WATERS AFTER CLOUDBURSTS

LAS CRUCES, N. M., Sept. 3.—(UP)— Destroyed by flood-waters in 1921, Hatch, N. M., 30 miles southwest of Las Cruces, today faced the same danger as high waters threatened the city, the result of torrential rains which swept over this region last night.

Flood waters lapped into the main section of Hatch shortly before noon today inundating the city. The water ranged from three to six feet in depth. In the southern area of the town frame and adobe houses were destroyed.

The torrents ran through houses in other sections of the city above window sill levels.

There were no deaths reported but loss of livestock was great. The torrential rainstorm started at midnight and lasted for more than two hours. Dykes were broken. Townpeople fled to higher ground.

Veteran Of Od Victory In Command

(Copyright by United Press)
ADDIS ABABA, Sept. 3.—(UP)— The first troops began pouring out of Addis Ababa today for the Ogaden district bordering Italian Somaliland, where they will bear the brunt of Italy's expected attack with tanks, planes and other destructive engines of modern warfare.

A nondescript army of about 500 men skittered through the mud at the railroad siding, pitched themselves and their heterogeneous weapons into boxcars and entrained for Ogaden. It was the capital's first troop transport since war became apparently inevitable.

Veteran In Command

The men represented part of the forces of the Dajamatch Habte Mikael, a veteran of Adowa, where the Ethiopians slaughtered thousands of Italians in 1896 in a great victory. Mikael is leaving today for the Ualual district to take the first line of defense.

Mikael eventually will have 20,000 men, either picked up en route or already at Ogaden.

The warriors, recruited from villages neighboring the capital, ranged from 14-year-old youths to greybeards. They have little experience in a military sense.

Few Uniforms

Only a handful had uniforms. The rifles varied in vintage. Some were ancient and might have been used in the battle at Adowa.

All were laden with bundles and the inevitable waterskins. Slogging through the mud, they saluted their chief with broad grins as he inspected them.

With the departure of the troops, the government prepared to refuse a demand of Count Vincini-Ciklicchi, Italian minister, for the transport of nearly 200 soldiers with machine guns to Addis Ababa as a legation guard.

Count Vincini also complained that the diplomatic mail for the Italians had arrived Sunday with the seals

MAY DROP ROGERS MEMORIAL PLANS

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 3.—(UP)— Plans for a $2,500,000 memorial museum to Will Rogers may be dropped when the Will Rogers Memorial Executive committee meets with Gov. E. W. Marland tomorrow in Oklahoma City, it was indicated today.

Charles W. Short, Jr., Tulsa municipal airport manager and close friend of the Rogers family, said that relatives of the humorist did not favor the original idea.

"Rogers, himself, would scoff at the idea of a nation spending $2,500,000 on a memorial for him," Short said.

LINDBERGH'S LEAVE

RED LAKE FALLS, Minn., Sept. 3.—(UP)— Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh were believed flying toward the west coast today, after a visit of nearly a week in Minnesota. The flying couple took off here late yesterday without announcing their destination.

Cardinal Van Rosy, Archbishop of Malines, celebrated the mass in a cathedral draped in solid black except for the statues of the apostles.

After the ceremony the body was conveyed past the tomb of Belgian's unknown soldier to the church of St. Lady of Laeken, seven miles outside the city. There Queen Astrid was interred in the same crypt where King Albert is buried.

Texas Town Flooded
Cloudbursts sent a wall of water racing down the channel of Brady creek today, flooding the business district of the town and shutting off highway and telegraph communication.

Hundreds of residents in lowlands fled from their homes to higher ground as the water lapped at the courthouse steps, covered the town square and invaded stores and hotel lobbies.

A levee thrown up after the disastrous flood of Oct. 6, 1930, which caused $300,000 damage here, proved ineffectual in blocking the torrent.

FUNERAL RITES ARE HELD FOR BELGIAN QUEEN

BRUSSELS, Sept. 3.—(UP)— Belgium paid last honors today to Queen Astrid in the cathedral of St. Gudule, the same church in which she was married nine years ago to the Duke of Brabant, now King Leopold III.

The ceremony came to its impressive conclusion with a soft playing of the Belgian national anthem, played so triumphantly when the Swedish princess, to become queen of the Belgians, was married to the heir to the throne.

Kings and princes walked bareheaded in the funeral train. Thousands clustered from midnight to dawn in parks opposite the royal palace.

All Business Suspended

All traffic was halted. All business houses were closed.

At 10:15 a. m. guns roared a salute as Astrid's coffin was carried from the palace and placed in the same hearse which, before the war, carried Leopold II and his queen, Maria Henriette, to their graves.

Six black horses drew it, preceded by detachments of mounted gendarmes, light artillery and infantry.

King Leopold walked alone. Despite the injuries received in the automobile accident in which his wife was killed, Leopold declined to ride in a carriage.

Royalty Pays Tribute

Behind him was his brother, Prince Charles, and then Prince Charles of Sweden, representatives of foreign nations, including Prince Humbert of Italy, who is the husband of Leopold's sister, Princess Marie Jose.

The Crown Princess of Denmark and Norway, the Duke of York, representing George V of England, and Louis Marin, French minister of state, were next in line. They were followed by the entire diplomatic corps and the members of the Belgian parliament.

The queen's children were not present.

Cardinal Van Rosy, Archbishop of Malines, celebrated the mass in a cathedral draped in solid black except for the statues of the apostles.

PIN-BALL GAME BURGLAR KILLED

OAKLAND, Calif., Sept. 3.—(UP)— Oakland's unidentified pin-and-ball game burglar, said by police to have rifled 46 of the amusement machines in the last two months, was killed by police today as he crouched behind the counter of a restaurant.

Patrolman E. L. Moore and Sergeant Guy Skelton found the man in the restaurant when they cruised the neighborhood after Leon Nordquist, night man at the place, had reported a prowler.

WAR DEPARTMENT GIVES FINAL APPROVAL ON FLOOD PROJECT: BOND ELECTION SET OCTOBER 4

Acting promptly upon word from Washington that the War Department has given final approval to the Orange County Flood Control project, the county supervisors today called an election for October 4, to submit a $6,620,000 bond proposal to the voters.

The board voted to call the bond election soon after Supervisor LeRoy Lyon, in Washington, wired Acting Chairman Willard Smith that the War Department approved the project, which calls for a grant of $6,374,000 from the federal government.

The project, calling for a total expenditure of $74,000, exclusive of lands required, now goes to the federal allotment board, which gives final approval on all federal projects, before they are sent to the President.

One More Step

Today's call for the bond election was made contingent upon approval of the allotment board for the project; the allotment board's decision is expected within a day or two. If it rejects the project, the bond election will be cancelled.

The $6,620,000 bond proposal covers the $3,200,000 which the county is expected to contribute toward construction costs, in conjunction with the government's $6,374,000, also the estimated cost of lands needed for the project, which is placed at $3,420,000.

Supervisors said, however, that while it would be necessary to provide a bond issue sufficient to cover these outside estimates of the cost of lands, they felt it was probable that the actual cost would be considerably less, and that possibly as much as $1,000,000 of the bond issue might be saved.

This would be exclusively the saving of the county, as the federal government would have no connection with it, they said.

Could Start Oct. 12.

Fixing of the date of the election at October 4 would permit launching the actual work, if the bonds are approved, by October 12, the date fixed by presidential edict for starting all such projects. The army engineers, it is said, have signified their preparation to get under way by that time.

The project just approved by the War Department is county wide in scope, including 11 separate units, originally estimated at $11,600,000, but pared down more than $2,000,000 by the War Department, to $9,574,000.

The various units are as follows:
Includes 11 Projects

No. 1—Prado dam, 93 feet high, of 180,000 acre feet storage capacity, will conserve 21,000 acre feet annually. Original estimate $7,215,397.

No. 2—Brea dam and channel, dam 73 feet high, impounding 3,900 acre feet. Enlargement of Brea channel to capacity of 3,400 second feet; to conserve 17,500 acre feet annually. Original estimate $697,943.

No. 3—San Juan dam, 93 feet high, impounding 15,750 acre feet; conserve 10,900 acre feet annually. Original estimate $1,977,980.

MISSING COLORADO MAN FEARED DEAD

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Sept. 3.—(UP)— Searchers watched two states today for a trace of Joseph W. Ady, Jr., 53, prominent mining man missing since Friday. Officers and employees in his statewide interests investigated Ady's usual haunts in the district to no avail, and feared he would not be found alive.

His family believed the socially prominent Coloradoan might have taken his own life. Ady had suffered financial reverses recently, but there were no indications that he had become despondent.

Police, discrediting the suicide theory, continued working on the hope he had gone to investigate property in an isolated area. They were inclining the belief Ady had met foul play, possibly had been kidnapped.

FLORIDA SWEEP BY HURRICANE: DAMAGE SEVERE

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 3.—(UP)— A report that 75 persons were killed on one island in the Florida keys during last night's hurricane reached here today.

BULLETIN
MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 3.—(UP)—Hurricane winds whipped this section of the southwest Florida coast today as a tropical disturbance passed out into the Gulf of Mexico after lashing the sparsely settled Florida tip.

The storm was passing to the west of Ft. Myers this afternoon, Al Colcord, weather forecaster, announced. The barometer at noon was at 29.38 and the wind velocity 40 miles at Fort Myers. No damage was reported.

Tavernier, small city located on the upper Florida keys, suffered severe damage, according to reports which indicated there may have been possible loss of life. Fred B. Ghent, Jacksonville director of veteran relief, told the Miami Daily News there were some persons reported missing and some injured in the Tavernier area. Tavernier was reported.

Baby Killed; Seven Hurt In Traffic

FOUR-YEAR-OLD baby was killed when he fell from a moving car and seven other persons were injured in automobile accidents in Orange county during the past 24 hours, bringing to a close a Labor Day holiday period marked with many road accidents but few serious ones.

The total number of persons killed in traffic accidents in Orange county this year was raised to 42, as compared with 38 at this time last year.

California Highway Patrol officers declared the traffic in Orange county had never been so heavy during a holiday, but proudly boasting of the fact that no fatal accidents were chalked up against the territories where they served over the week end. The only other fatality in the county was the death of a Mexican in Santa Ana on September 2, from injuries received the day previous.

Falls From Car
Frank Dean Hill, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion L. Hill, 115 West Franklin avenue, Buena Park, died at the Fullerton General hospital at 8 p. m. yesterday of a fractured skull, received when he fell from the car driven by H. P. Gibson, of Buena Park, near Northam station, two hours earlier.

Gibson, a friend of the Hill family, borrowed the Hill machine to go to Northam station after eggs. Just before the destination was reached, the rear door became unfastened and the child fell out, his head striking the concrete roadway.

The body of the child was removed to the McAulay and Suters funeral parlors at Fullerton, where an inquest will be held, date of which is to be announced later.

No funeral services have been announced.

MUTILATES YOUNG WIFE, KILLS SELF

SANTA MONICA, Cal., Sept. 3.—(UP)— O. N. Thorstenson, 57, goaded by a desire to "save her from suffering," police said, attacked his 15-year-old wife, Pearl, with a hammer and razor today, then cut his own throat with fatal results. Surgeons feared the girl-wife would die.

Her face was mutilated by razor slashes and her skull probably fractured by the blows of a carpenter's hammer.

Police, summoned by neighbors who heard terrified screams, broke into the house to find her lying unconscious in a pool of blood and her husband dead beside her. In his hand the man still clutched a blood-spattered razor.

Those brought ashore were C. P. Snodgrass, 49, of Santa Monica; B. F. Fisher, 52, and B. F. Fisher Jr., 29, of Los Angeles, and the two children. In addition to these three men and the children, one of them identified as Rufus Trueblood, exhausted by their struggle against the huge cymbers, were assisted to the shore by life guards.

Caught By Currents
Snodgrass and the two Fishers, father and son, floating on inner tubes, had been carried swiftly out to the sea by a strong undertow. Likewise, it was reported, the two children, also resting on rubber tubes, had been carried beyond a safe depth. The adults, realizing their threatening situation, and unable to make headway against the heavy current, called for help.

Their calls attracted the attention of persons on the beach. First to be brought ashore were the children. Then Paul Heyward, a spectator, swam out with a buoy and soon was followed by Smith McElhatten, Elmer Saxton, Frank Shelton and Rufus Trueblood.

Life Guards Respond
In the meantime a call had been sent in to the Laguna Beach city life guards who made a record run for the place, followed by the first aid equipment of the Laguna Beach fire department, Captain Ed Hobart and Life Guards William Shields and Ralph Kinney answered the call. Life Guard Shields, after assisting in the general rescue, went to the assistance of Trueblood.

Sends Bluebird Over Utah Course at 304.311 During 1st Trial Today

By JOHN (SKY) DUNLAP
BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah, Sept. 3.—(UP)— Sir Malcolm Campbell, British speed king, barely failed to attain his goal of making a record of driving 300 miles per hour here today.

He drove the first measured mile in 304.311 but dropped below that mark on the re-run which, under American Automobile association rules, had to be made within an hour after the first run.

His average for the two runs was 299.874 miles per hour.

Campbell Disappointed
Although he set a new world's record, Campbell was dejected because he fell short of 300 miles per hour. He said he would not run again today but probably would speed again early tomorrow. His former record, set last February, was 276.315 m.p.h.

The Bluebird made the second run in 12.005 seconds—a speed of 295.566 miles per hour.

It was likely that Campbell will make the run earlier tomorrow to avoid the slight breeze that came up today to slow him down on the last run.

He was scheduled to make his first trial at 5:00 a. m. today but the car did not arrive at the track until 5:30 and the race started at 7:11 a. m. p.m.

Tire Blows Out
For the second run, he only had eight minutes left in the hour allotted him. A blowout near the

NO BLAME FIXED IN UALUAL INCIDENT

PARIS, Sept. 3.—(UP)— The joint commission of the League of Nations seeking to determine blame in the Italian-Ethiopian dispute, rendered a verdict today that the Ualual incident was a matter solely between Italy and Ethiopia.

The incident is not a matter for international responsibility, the committee decided.

The arbitrators were unable to decide on any legal point because the question of frontier limits previously had been removed from their jurisdiction. They were limited to determining the circumstances under which the fighting at Ualual occurred.

Alleged Bandit And Kidnapers Wanted Here Arrested

MAN WHO STOLE TRUCK LOAD OF SUGAR IS HELD

Long, tedious hours of investigation, checking and running down blind clues came to an end today when August Jungkeit, 24, object of a police search for a year, was arrested by California Highway police at Bakersfield.

He is wanted here as the bandit who on the night of August 30, 1934, held up a Holly Sugar company truck, kidnaped the driver and stole the truck, carrying 276 one hundred pounds sacks of sugar, valued at $1300.

Officer Gives Tipoff
The tipoff for his arrest was furnished by G. F. McKelvey, deputy sheriff, who learned his whereabouts through contact with another prisoner who was in custody. Sheriff Logan Jackson and Chief of Police Floyd W. Howard left here this morning for Bakersfield, to return the prisoner to Orange county.

On the night of August 30, 1934, Everett P. Cornell, of 313 Hickory street, Santa Ana, driver of a Holly Sugar company truck, stopped for a boulevard at Dyer road and South Main street. He was transferring a load of sugar from the Dyer plant to a warehouse in Santa Ana. As he stopped a man jumped on the running board, pistol in hand, and ordered him to drive south on Main street, to a road running west just south of the Newport boulevard.

Truck Driver Kidnaped
Cornell complied and when the road was reached they met another man in a sedan. The truck driver was transferred to the waiting car, his hands were bound to his knees, and the first bandit got in the machine and drove him to Costa Mesa where he was kept prisoner for some time. In the meantime, the truck, loaded with sugar, was stolen.

Four men, Jack Cassidy, R. P. Roper, George McGee and Dewey Resner were arrested by Santa Ana police and sheriff's officers within 30 days of the crime, but were released when they proved alibis. Then on October 1, last year, officers arrested Herman Jungkeit, 36, brother of August, after a quantity of the missing sugar and sacks were found in a deserted house, at Western and Hanson avenues, in Buena Park.

Brought To Trial
Herman was brought to trial here on a charge of receiving stolen property. He fought off all accusations that he was one of the bandits. He was found guilty of receiving the sugar and hiding it, and was given probation of five years, from the superior court here on January 18, 1935.

Since that time, officers have been close on the trail of the brother, August. They have certain information, they declare that will pin him to the actual hold-up.

The Jungkeit brothers are well known in Orange county. Formerly they operated a successful ranch at Lincoln and Magnolia avenues on the Ball road.

August Jungkeit will be returned here this afternoon and will be booked at the county jail on a robbery charge.

EXPECT TO NAME NEW DEPUTY SOON

Announcement of the appointment to the criminal division of the sheriff's office, of a man to take the place of James Musick, deputy, now on leave of absence to play professional football for the Boston Red Skins, of the National Professional Football League, is expected in a few days.

Musick has been gone for several days, and many applications have been made to the sheriff for the position, which will last for several months. Sheriff Jackson said today that he was not ready yet to name the successor for Musick at the present time.

352 IN DANGER AS LINER PILES UP ON REEF

wirelessed that it "will be standing by with boat crews ready."

Seas Raging
This was interpreted to mean that as soon as the weather moderates, an attempt would be made to transfer the passengers in small boats.

Coast guard officials at the Port Lauderdale base said they did not believe the seas would be sufficiently quiet for small boat rescue attempts for at least another 24 hours.

The fact that the Dixie had wirelessed The Reaper shortly after the tanker's arrival in the immediate vicinity that no immediate aid was required led marine experts here to believe the liner's master intended to lower boats when the seas calmed.

The only word of the status of the 355 passengers and the 117 members of the Dixie's crew came in a message intercepted by naval radio, reporting "several passengers and members of crew slightly injured."

Two other coast guard boats and a commercial tug were ready to leave Key West as soon as the weather improved. No attempt was expected to be made to pull the Dixie off the reef until the ship's condition had been determined.

Earlier messages from the grounded ship reported leaks and that the ship was taking water. The latter Dixie reported it was "not leaking so much as before."

On the bridge of the Dixie Captain Einar W. Dunstrom, gray-haired seaman, and a veteran of the eastern and gulf coastwise routes, fought a courageous battle to save his passengers and ship.

His messages spelled out a new tale of sea heroism in the always repeated battle of ships against the elements. At approximately 11 o'clock (EST) last night, with 217 first class passengers, eight third class passengers and a crew of 117 aboard, the Dixie was thrown onto the reef by the hurricane it had been fighting on its voyage through the straits all day.

Radio Disabled
A few minutes later the winds brought her radio antenna crashing to the deck and wrecked part of her sending apparatus. Before this happened, a message flashed out: "In distress—in immediate need of assistance."

Seamen ashore reconstructed the scene aboard. Braving great seas breaking over the decks, seamen rigged an emergency antenna, connected with the radio direction finder. Within 20 minutes feeble signals came from the Dixie through this makeshift apparatus. They spelled out: S O S — S O S.

The rescue vessels were on their way to the stricken liner. The Dixie is a modern vessel of 318 tons and is flagship of the Southern Pacific Steamship company (the Morgan line) and Captain Sundstrom is commodore of the company's fleet. She sailed Saturday "from New Orleans and was due in New York Thursday."

Though hurricane warnings were flying ashore yesterday, she entered the treacherous Florida straits, a stretch of water considered by all navigators as among the most dangerous in the world. Threading her way through the shoals as the wind increased steadily in velocity, she was nearing the open Atlantic when a furious sea tossed her up on the reef.

LABOR HEAD VOICES 30-HOUR WEEK PLEA

CANTON, O., Sept. 3.—(UP)—President William Green of the American Federation of Labor launched a new demand yesterday for the 30-hour week as the only "permanent solution" of unemployment problems. In a Labor Day address here, Green praised social and labor legislation enacted by the session of congress just closed but warned that labor was prepared to renew its drive for a universal 30-hour laboring week. "We hold that the permanent solution of our unemployment problem can only be brought about through a reduction in the hours worked per day and per week," he said, "so that the amount of work available may be more widely distributed and through the development of mass purchasing power, so that the consuming ability of the nation may more nearly correspond with its facilities of production."

ernier is near where the steamer Dixie went aground last night.

Everglades City's population of 200 huddled in a frame hotel—the town's safest building.

At Homestead, near Miami, an unofficial estimate placed truck and fruit loss at from $250,000 to $500,000.

The Florida east coast special train sent to Isle Moroda and Matecumbe keys to evacuate 500 World war veterans working there at federal relief construction camps was found safe after a night of silence. Washed out in three places, the Miami-to-Key West overseas track had caved in ahead of the returning train.

At Key West, power lines failed and outside communication was available only through expensive undersea cables. Residents of the southernmost city of the nation were removing battens from their homes at noon and stores opened for business.

In the bay fronting section of Miami, stately royal palms were stripped of their fronds. The wind forced water into Biscayne bay to a level with the three-mile county causeway running between Miami and Miami Beach.

Communication lines were down to Everglades City and it was expected to be nightfall before the lines would be re-installed.

SPEED RECORD SET TODAY BY BRITISH RACER

end of the first run stopped the car quickly and it was towed to the tent at the end of the 13-mile straight-away. Mechanics changed all four tires, checked over the motor, refueled the juggernaut and had it ready to roll again in 52 minutes, remarkably fast time for the magnitude of their task.

Campbell said he was driving blind during the last half of the measured mile because he did not shut the air ventilator slot in the nose of the car soon enough. Steam poured into the cockpit and then some flying salt entered.

Sen Injured Hand
Donald Campbell, the driver's 15-year-old son, was so eager to greet his father after the dash he slipped on the salt and injured his hand.

A moment later the official limousine that raced the boy to the Bluebird, caught fire and required the work of bystanders to extinguish it.

"I had tremendous difficulty in seeing my way down the track," Campbell said. "Salt flew up somewhat in the front of the car, making an opaque screen. The Bluebird performed splendidly despite heating up considerably from the desert heat."

The course was in good shape. I am hoping to break 300 miles per hour tomorrow after missing it so slightly today. There is probably no more disappointed man today than I am.

To Keep on Trying
"It means nothing that my car did 304 miles an hour one way. I missed my goal and will keep right on trying until I get it. I intend to come out tomorrow at the same time but should get off earlier."

"Cars drove through timing wires today and delayed us nearly two hours."

The daring driver calmly told of having his blowout at 300 miles per hour near the end of the measured mile and then rolling four miles on the rim.

"The car swerved some but I brought it safely to a stop," he said.

"That's one reason why the last run was slower. It took too much time to repair the damage and fix a torn place in the body."

REVIEW HISTORY AT FREE LECTURE

The history of America before the time of Columbus will be reviewed in a free word and picture tour of Old Mexico, Central and Southern America tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A., to be given by Royal J. Hansen. A second lecture will be given next Sunday at the same time. At 811 west Myrtle street, Santa Ana, it was announced. Hansen has a group of approximately 150 stereographic pictures, taken during the past few years on various expeditions into Central America and South American countries, which are said to reveal the highly intellectual cultures of people that have inhabited the western hemisphere in the distant past. Pictures of America's earliest formal architecture as built in the Valley of Mexico, Mayan ruins and hundreds of other spots of interest will be shown. No collection will be taken, and the public is invited.

Arrest Driver
Mary Williams, 16, of 315 West Fifth street, Los Angeles, was reported injured late last night when the car in which she was riding, driven by Earl L. Morrill, 26, of 6536 3-4 South Victoria drive, Los Angeles, collided with a machine driven by Charles Salazar, 23, 1827 West Second street, Santa Ana.

State police arrested Salazar, a laborer, and lodged him in the county jail. He will be tried on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor, they reported.

The girl is not believed to have been badly hurt. When the car driven by John Iacono, 40, 634 Fourteenth street, San Pedro, overturned on Dale avenue, four miles west of Anaheim, at 7:45 o'clock last night, three persons were injured. The driver of another car was arrested by state police on a reckless driving charge.

Salvador Iacono, 48, of San Pedro, Ann Iacono, 45, and John Iacono, 20, were reported injured. They were taken to Long Beach. The report of the accident indicated that the Iacono car was struck by a machine driven by Jenot M. Soakes, 42, 984 East Fifty-fifth street, Los Angeles, while both cars were traveling on Lincoln avenue at Dale avenue.

Traffic Toll In Nation Drops
By United Press
(Copyright, 1935, by United Press)
Rain and abnormally cool weather over a major portion of the United States saved more than 200 lives yesterday, insurance actuaries estimated today.

Fewer than 170 persons were killed in holiday traffic accidents, whereas on Labor Days for three years back the toll has exceeded 350.

Insurance statisticians had predicted that more than 400 would die on highways yesterday. Only the rain and cold, keeping picnic parties at home, holding crowds at resorts to ordinary week-day figures, and enforcing cautious automobile driving, prevented the prophecy from being fulfilled, they said.

A national survey by the United Press revealed only 162 traffic accident fatalities reported to police departments.

California, one of the states which escaped the general bad weather, had the largest death toll, 26. Eleven were killed in Illinois, and 10 in Iowa.

Seven were killed in New York, five in the metropolitan area of New York City. Effect of the weather on traffic was demonstrated at Coney Island, where 600,000 persons jammed beaches Sunday. Yesterday fewer than 150,000 persons visited the resort. Minnesota authorities reported eight fatalities in that state. Georgia, Missouri, Indiana, Tennessee, and Pennsylvania had five each. Utah reported seven.

MAINTAINS RIGHT TO GRANT CONCESSION
ADDIS ABABA, Sept. 3.—(UP)—The government announced today that it maintains the right to grant an oil and mineral concession to Francis M. Rickett, British promoter representing an American syndicate.

The announcement amounted to defiance of a British warning to withhold the concession pending consultation among Britain, France and Italy.

The government's communique charged that Italy, despite her guarantee of Ethiopia's independence under the treaty of 1906—under which she is protesting the concession—"is preparing to violate the treaty openly by resorting to war at the expense of her international obligations."

Police News

Capt. Henry Meehan, of the Orange county squad of the California Highway Patrol, was back on duty today after a two weeks vacation. During his absence, Walter Meyer, veteran patrolman for the state here, was in active charge.

G. F. McKelvey, deputy sheriff, was acting as chief criminal deputy sheriff today for the sheriff's office as Merle Dean, head of that department started a two weeks vacation.

Charged with failure to provide for a nine months old baby, J. N. Edrosa, Santa Ana, pleaded not guilty to the charge in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court today and waived a jury trial. He was released on his own recognizance and his hearing set for September 24, at 9 a. m.

Anthony P. O'Dea, 444 South Canon Drive, Beverly Hills was arrested at 6:30 p. m. yesterday by Lloyd Groover, state police officer on a charge of reckless driving. He was cited into Justice Chris Pann's Huntington Beach justice court on September 17.

Native Sons Will Attend Admission Day Celebration

The local parlor of the Native Sons of the Golden West last night discussed and made plans for attending the Admission Day celebration at San Diego on September 9.

A large parade and initiation ceremony will be held in connection with the celebration. Following the ceremony of raising the four flags that have flown over California, Madam Schumann-Heink will sing "The Star Spangled Banner."

Anyone wishing to attend the fair with the Native Sons and Native Daughters may do so by contacting the secretaries of either organization, it was announced.

In addition, the usual state celebration will take place at Stockton this year, it was added.

Another supper and dance will be held at Irvine park on Wednesday, September 18.

BABY DROWNED YESTERDAY AT NEWPORT BEACH

Donald Young, four-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. John Parke Young, 747 Zanja street, Pasadena, lost his life while playing in the ocean at the foot of Seventh street at Newport Beach yesterday, a giant wave knocking him down and carrying him into deep water before help could reach him.

The body was recovered by J. Jensen, of Newport Beach, who called the city rescue squad, members of which worked for over three hours in an effort to revive the child.

According to reports from the beach city, the parents were on the beach with friends and the child was playing in the water with a group of children. The other children managed to reach safety before the big wave struck.

Dwight Taylor Jr., of Los Angeles was given emergency treatment by the rescue squad after being taken from the water yesterday. Mrs. R. E. Rankin, of Olive, was saved from death in Newport bay by Life Guard Jack Johnson. Six other swimmers were assisted to safety, according to Frank Crocker, head of the life saving squad.

BURLEW—Services for Fred Burlew, who died September 1, 1935, at Burbank, will be held Thursday, September 5, 1935, at 2 p. m. from Smith and Tutthill's chapel. Entombment Fairhaven Mausoleum. Rev. O. Scott McFarland in charge. Entombment services private.

HOLD BURLEW FUNERAL HERE ON THURSDAY

Arrangements for the funeral of Fred N. Burlew, 23, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. N. Burlew, of Santa Ana, who went to his death as co-pilot of the Western Air Express liner that crashed near Van Nuys Sunday night, were completed today, following an official investigation into causes of the crash by the Los Angeles county coroner and the Department of Commerce.

Rites for the Santa Ana youth will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from Smith and Tutthill's chapel, Sixth and Broadway, with the Rev. O. Scott McFarland in charge. Entombment services, which will be private, will follow at the Fairhaven mausoleum.

Autopsies performed on the three victims of the tragedy indicated that they met death instantly in the crash, according to Coroner Frank Nance of Los Angeles, and were not burned to death in the fire that followed.

Was Farewell Trip

Pilot George Sherwood, 38, and Miss Donna Naylor, 21, stewardess on the plane, plunged to their death with the Santa Ana youth, who was making his farewell trip as co-pilot, having been slated for transfer day after tomorrow to ground service, as field manager for Western Air Express.

All three of the bodies were taken to the Powell mortuary in Burbank, pending the conclusion of the official investigation into the accident.

Conflicting Facts

Preliminary investigation of the air tragedy by Department of Commerce officials developed conflicting reports of the facts. The statement of a Van Nuys farmer who claimed to have witnessed the crash, and who said that engine trouble had been evidenced as the air liner came to earth, was disputed by officials of the Union Terminal. They said they heard the steady hum of the motors from the time the plane left the field until it crashed, less than a mile away.

Inspectors James Read and W. E. Phelan, of the Department of Commerce, were quoted as stating that the wreckage indicated that the motors had been functioning. They were new motors, recently installed in the plane. J. S. Marriot, supervising aeronautical inspector for the Department of Commerce, said that it may be a week before his report of the investigation is completed.

The air liner, after crashing to the earth, plowed into a farmer's shed, which burned with the plane. The body of Pilot Sherwood was found crushed under the wheel of the ship. Fred Burlew was nearby. The stewardess was found under the wreckage of the shed.

SANTA ANITA WINS TWICE BY ONE RUN

By the same margin—one run—Santa Anita defeated two baseball opponents over the weekend.

Yesterday, Santa Anita scored a 3-2 victory over Gardena, with Negrite shading Molinar in a pitching duel decided by Friend's triple with Maldonado aboard in the first inning, Friend scoring on a wild pitch.

Sunday's conflict was 6-5, Santa Anita getting the edge on the strength of a three-run barrage in the eighth and then staving off Chino's challenge in the ninth.

STORM DRAIN PROJECTS ARE APPLIED FOR

Applications for two PWA projects in Orange county, providing $173,769.16 for the West Anaheim storm drain, and $30,949.05 for the Laveta avenue storm drain, near Orange, were authorized by the county supervisors today.

The county and the federal government will divide the cost on an approximately even basis, considering that the county must provide rights-of-way, which about balances the greater portion of construction cost shouldered by PWA, according to Flood Control Engineer M. N. Thompson.

The West Anaheim storm drain project calls for construction of approximately three and one-half miles of concrete-lined drainage ditch, four feet wide at the bottom, extending from Ball road, at Manchester avenue, to Crescent avenue and Brookhurst road. It will require nine months for completion and will provide employment to an average of 82 men, it was estimated.

The La Veta avenue project calls for a similar drainage ditch, extending from the El Modena station on the Southern Pacific railroad, along La Veta avenue to empty into Santiago creek east of Tustin avenue. It is expected to require five months for completion, and will employ an average of 26 men.

The projects will be filed with PWA instead of WPA because both are above the WPA limit of $25,000.

"Camels don't get your Wind"

FAMOUS SWIMMERS AGREE

So Mild! YOU CAN SMOKE ALL YOU WANT

Champion swimmers speak with authority when they discuss sound wind—healthy nerves—and Camels. Buster Crabbe, champion in the 400-meter free-style Olympic event, says: "I have smoked Camels for years. If you go in for sports at all, I'd advise Camels. You'll find, as I did, that Camels are so mild they never get your wind or cut your endurance."

What Buster Crabbe says is confirmed by Helene Madison; by Jane Fauntz, the Chicago girl who rose to Olympic fame; and by Stubby Kruger and Josephine McKim. So turn to Camels. Enjoy those costlier tobaccos in Camel's matchless blend. Smoke all you wish. Athletes say, "Camels don't disturb your nerves or wind."

SPENDING—

A liberal New Deal official returned recently from a scouting trip through the east with the strange news that even the local Democratic politicians are against the spending program.

His conclusion, which has already been reported higher up, is that the political advantages of spending have been spoiled. Red tape, frequent changes of plan and the Hopkins-Ickes attitude toward the politicians are contributing causes.

All down the inside line, similar talk has been increasing here. If state, local and county political authorities join the chorus, some entirely new arrangement may be expected.

President Roosevelt told the departing congressional leaders that he would not have much to submit to congress next session. The implication was that he is not seriously apprehensive about reverses in the courts this fall; that the reform program is temporarily complete; that election is coming on.

MEDICINE—

The Brookings Institute is cooking up some more medicine for the New Deal. A report is being prepared on the gold policy and its effect on prices. It will be out in about sixty days.

The institute is non-political, but its critical analyses of New Deal policies (remember the NRA) have furnished more data for political viewpoints than any other agency. This particular study is being financed by a special appropriation from the Rockefeller foundation.

RUMBLING—

A non-political protest against the National Youth movement was made by a prominent educator, Prof. George Drayton Strayer, of Teacher's College, Columbia University, not long ago, but did not get into the papers. It was in an address to Teachers questioning the tendency toward central federal control of education. "No greater danger to democracy can be found," said Prof. Strayer, "than resides in the organization of a central control over education which may at any time be used for the purposes of propaganda and which is entirely suited to the needs of those who would develop a Fascist state."

$25,000 CLUB—

Among the measures which did not get through congress was the black lobby registration bill. It would have required all lobbyists to register and to disclose their compensation. It was killed by the American Bar Association because its provisions would have blanketed attorneys and thus was considered an indignity to the legal profession. However, some of the credit is really due to a couple of high-priced Democratic lawyers. They are members of the unofficial "$25,000 club," so called because members favor that amount as a fee.

PENSIONS—

When President Roosevelt signed the Spanish War Veterans' pension bill, he said: "This establishes no ground of precedent for pensions for the World War group; theirs is an entirely different case." Apparently the representatives of World War Veterans did not hear him. At least the VFW crowd, headed by James Van Zandt, is organizing to push for a uniform pension idea. They figure that the bonus is already a certainty, that it will be enacted in January. They are right about that.

Also, enactment of a pension system is only a question of time. It will not come next year because the bonus will satisfy the Veterans' vote at least one more election. Most legislative authorities, however, consider it a certainty within five years.

PREPAREDNESS—

A prominent union official called at the SEC the other day to get copies of the regulation statement of the firm whose employees he speaks for. He wanted to learn something about the internal financial position of the firm so he would be in a better labor bargaining position.

MISUNDERSTANDING—

It seems that the only reason Vice-President Garner is going to Japan is that the boat on which he booked passage for the Philippines takes that route, going and coming. Garner has no message for the Japanese and no purpose beyond his Philippine arrangements.

GRAFT

The use of federal funds to build up local political machines of questionable ability and morals furnishes Relief Harry Hopkins with a hard nut to crack. Although President Roosevelt has ruled that politicians must keep their itching hands off these billions no way has been devised to handoff them completely.

Numerous complaints have reached the inner circle to the effect that local bosses are handling work relief money exactly as if it were patronage. Applicants for jobs have been forced to present political recommendations in some instances. Party hacks lacking any training or experience have been permitted to dole out funds. In several large cities conditions are notoriously bad.

The result has been to strengthen malodorous machines swept into office in the 1932 and 1934 elections. Many have no sympathy for the administration's policies and are simply cashing in. Some have actually opposed the President. Conscientious New Dealers are worried and so are the solid, non-partisan people in these communities. Either Mr. Roosevelt or Mr. Hopkins may speak his mind on this matter soon.

GARNER

Had several young Democrats who seek a vice-presidential nomination to the Roosevelt ticket been jollying in the White House anteroom recently, they would have folded up their patented lightning rods. They could have read the fate of Jack Garner's boyish grin as he emerged from the President's office.

Mr. Roosevelt's warm compliments for the Texan's part in steering "must" legislation through the last session were ringing in Jack's ears. So were the President's final words of parting: "If I'm the candidate next year, Jack, you'll be my running mate."

The President, of course, was indulging in a modest joke when he "read" about his renomination. Only a few know that it was the Vice President who kept the President in the fight for the holding company bill. Mr. Roosevelt had given it up as a bad job when his aide voluntarily stepped in.

"Keep your brain trusters out of this," Jack said in effect, "and I'll put it over." A few days later the White House phone rang. "It's o.k.," said Jack. "Just as you want it, too. We simply give them (the holding companies) an anesthetic before we hang 'em."

SHIFTS

New that Congress has packed its bag and gone home President Roosevelt has quietly taken up the question of reorganizing rambling and conflicting New Deal agencies. It means that the watchword from now on will be economy and efficiency—an appealing 1935 slogan in view of hostile criticism.

The President's move explains several seemingly unrelated executive orders—the coordination of housing agencies, the extension of the Budget Bureau's authority, the termination of PWA expenditures.

The unadvised reason for stopping Ickes' heavy work is the desire to save perhaps a billion of the $4,850,000,000 appropriation. That would be an unexpected answer—next June—to campaign charges that this is a spendthrift administration.

Improving business conditions are cited as another explanation for shutting down on long-time grants and loans. New Deal economists expect that industry will undertake this work in late fall or next spring. They will concentrate on stimulating the market for consumers' goods.

COLOR

Hardly a word has crept into the newspapers about Pennsylvania's new law conferring absolute social rights upon colored people, but Democrats and Republicans at the capital regard it as a major political development. They are studying census figures to determine what influence it may exert on the 1936 presidential campaign.

The legislation provides among other things that colored people may not be denied a room in a hotel, a seat in a theater or public conveyance. They impose a fine and imprisonment upon violators. They were initiated and passed by a Democratic house and Republican senate and signed by a Democratic governor. Despite this non-partisan backing the Democrats may get the political credit.

In a close election it is estimated that colored voters hold the balance of power in New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio and Indiana. Those states have almost 150 electoral votes.

PROFITS

opposed insurance of bank deposits when it was first broached in 1933. He eventually acquiesced when its sponsors argued that it would be a weapon for forcing banks into the Federal Reserve and establishing a unified banking system. The idea was to withhold the insurance from institutions which did not sign up.

But White House spokesmen fought the provision in the new bank bill which would have barred 7000 small state banks from the deposit guarantee unless they qualified for the reserve system. Senatorial sleuths think they have found the answer for the shift. They understand that Jesse Jones has invested RFC funds in these banks and wanted them to enjoy full federal benefits.

Thus RFC operations may force a modification of the administration's policies toward many important interests. For Mr. Jones has billions in banks, railroads, insurance companies, factories, etc. Uncle Sam must get his RFC repayments from private profits.

ANTIS

Political weather observers are trying to size up the Democratic third-party movement—whether it will remain the size of a man's hand or develop into a cyclone. Most of them discount it because of Henry's sponsorship and because Jim Farley isn't letting any state delegations wander away.

Anti-Roosevelt feeling is strong in spots, notably in the South, but the Democratic tradition is stronger than hate and longer-lived than any New Deal. Officeholders, especially in Congress, are dependent upon Roosevelt, having risked their lives to support his bills. They will stick to him for their own sakes.

Word comes that Father Coughlin will support Roosevelt. Farley has patched up a bargain with Upton Sinclair—subject to FDR's modification. The weatherwise can't see anything to stop Roosevelt's nomination.

ROUGH

Standard Oil of California's tremendous cut in crude oil prices starts the first serious price war for some time—though it won't affect the East for at least 60 days and may be settled before then. Standard was fed up with the persistent refusal of small independents to heed production quotas—which was raising Cain with its own business. California has no law to cover "hot oil"—so the corporation decided to teach the little fellows a severe lesson.

In effect it is saying: "So you want to play rough? O. K.—here you are!"

You'll hear a lot about monopoly, octopuses, tentacles and such in the next few weeks. But nobody has authority to force Standard to change its price and the independents won't be able to stand the gas for long. In the end they will have to surrender on Standard's terms.

SCENE OF FASHION SHOW

Completing a program of re-furnishing and re-modeling, Katherine's Ready to Wear Shop at 422 North Broadway, is now in readiness to launch its seventh successive season in Santa Ana, with the annual fall fashion show tomorrow. Venetian blinds, heavy velvet carpets, draperies and upholstery all form a harmonious background in eggshell, ivory and warm brown tones, for the smart costumes, suits and coats in which Katherine's shop specializes.

FASHION SHOW TO CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Seven years of success in providing the smartest modes of the moment for discriminating women of Santa Ana and Orange county, will be celebrated tomorrow by Katherine's Ready-to-Wear Shop.

They Raved About Her Beautiful Clothes

"Gee, you look so beautiful!" "Where did you get those stunning clothes?" How her friends raved about her clothes and wondered how she was able to dress so attractively on her small salary. But that was easy—she bought her clothes at Sender's Smart Shop where she found the very latest in fashion at reasonable prices—and then she paid for her clothes in small, convenient amounts as she received her salary.

Any woman may do the same—Come to the Smart Shop and open your charge account at once.

SENDER'S SMART SHOP

204 West 4th St. Santa Ana Ph. 556

422 North Broadway, with an annual Autumn Fashion show. Seven years ago when Mrs. Katherine Kapus saw an opportunity for launching a thoroughly modern dress shop in Santa Ana, an admirable location for the new business venture was found in the corner store-room directly north of the Broadway theater.

The spirit of individual service with which Mrs. Kapus opened her shop, has been maintained throughout the seven years. She is in constant touch with a prominent stylist in New York City, and secures the latest styles not only of the east but the imported models from Paris and other European fashion centers, as quickly as do the eastern buyers. She has many unusually attractive models in formal gowns, afternoon frocks, suits and coats for tomorrow's opening, all expressing the latest modes in combination with the faultless taste she expresses in making her purchases. These various costumes and suits will be modeled in the newly refinished shop, where even the weariest shopper will find rest and quiet charm as an aid to selecting her new autumn wardrobe.

"We pride ourselves on combining high quality with reasonable prices," today declared Katherine in discussing tomorrow's opening. "We pay just as close attention to the purchaser of a modest street frock as we do to the bride that comes to us to be outfitted with her trousseau."

During the past seven years Katherine's has co-operated with various women's organizations in presenting spring and autumn style shows, providing smart frocks and suits for display, according to the wishes of the hostess groups. Mrs. Kapus is assisted in her sales force by Mrs. Beese McClain, and Mrs. C. Nelson.

AGED MAN DIES IN SECOND TRY TO KILL SELF

George Smith, 82 years old, committed suicide in Orange today, on his second attempt.

He was found on the floor of his room in the house owned by Ed Ward, at 240 South Grand avenue, by Ward, who was attracted to the room by the smell of gas. Smith had taken the rubber hose connection from a gas stove, fitted it to a gas outlet and run it under a blanket. Then he crawled under the blanket and inhaled the fumes. He was dead about 45 minutes before the body was found.

Second Attempt Smith attempted taking his life in a similar manner several months ago. The Orange fire department was called and with the rescuer firemen saved his life. This angered him, but he had been watched closely since that time by members of the Ward family.

He was seen at 7:30 a. m. today by neighbors. The body was found at 9:45 a. m.

Coroner Earl Abbey removed the body to the Coffey funeral parlors in Orange. No inquest will be held. Smith is survived by a nephew, F. L. Chamberlain, of San Gabriel, the only relatives that could be found today. His daughter is said to have taken her life in Santa Barbara several years ago.

Speaker Tells Work of Union

ORANGE Sept. 3.—Work of the American Sunday School union was recounted by the Rev. O. I. Bodie, head of the union in Im-

"We don't need to go to foreign countries to find people who have never heard of Christ," he said. "There are many right here in California and in other parts of the United States."

The national union is 118 years old, according to the speaker. He told of many of the interesting experiences that have come to him in his work of organizing 26 Sunday schools in his district.

SERVICES FOR ALLEN ATTRACT LARGE CROWDS

Friends from all Southern California yesterday gathered at the La Habra Methodist church to pay tribute to Cecil Allen, Santa Ana aviator who met tragic death when the plane he was driving in the Bendix Air Derby in Los Angeles last Friday crashed in a takeoff. Services were held from the church that had been his church.

home since he joined when five years of age. The body of the young aviator lay in state throughout the morning with four young friends as a guard of honor. On the day previous it had lain in state at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ridgeway of Burbank.

The young aviator, son of Mrs. Delpha Redfern, formerly of La Habra and Santa Ana, now of Exeter, was well known throughout Orange county. He was raised in La Habra where his uncle, Claude Ridgeway, resides at present.

Flowers Fill Church
Flowers filled the little La Habra church where the services were held.

The Rev. H. K. Holtzinger, pastor of the La Habra church, was in charge of services while the Rev. H. O. Simmons, former pastor, now of St. Mark's church, Los Angeles, brought the funeral message. He extolled the courage and character of the aviator, and told of his interest and contributions to the church. The Rev. H. M. Strandberg, a pastor of the church many years ago when Cecil Allen and his mother and brothers resided at La Habra, was unable to attend and bring the funeral message. During his residence at La Habra Allen had been an honor member of his Sunday school class for seven consecutive years.

The young men who were honor guards at the casket of the aviator were Edmond Canfield and Ed Gill of La Habra, Ben H. Randall, Glendale, Wilbur Cloud, Linwood, and pallbearers were Don Moyle, Joe Yant, Art Gross, Joe Thomas, Joe O'Rourke and Gene Miller.

Interment was at Loma Vista, Fullerton. Those who survive are his mother, a half brother, Donald Redfern, of Exeter, four step brothers, Roy, Comer and Ross of Antioch and Ray of La Habra, and his grandparents, the Rev. and Mrs. J. L. Ridgeway, and an uncle, Claude Ridgeway.

FASTER AND FUNNIER

Those of you who like the Fred Astaire-Ginger Rogers combination really have a treat coming. "Top Hat," their third picture together, will be ready for release next month. And it's the best yet. Not only is their dancing terrific—Ginger improves with each new film—but it has enchanting settings. And there's a strong laugh-filled story that's just as important as the musical numbers.

Edward Everett Horton is an invaluable asset to the comedy, of course. But Fred and Ginger do their part. They're becoming a real team of funsters. Mark Sandrich, who megaphoned "The Gay Divorcee," directed this one and retained a racing, hilarious tempo right through to the last reel.

TODAY'S LESSON

Judging from the dialogue written for Edmund Lowe's new picture, "Grand Exit," movie audiences are due for a good load of new racketeer phraseology. Some of the terms I spotted are: Kick-off—to burn down a house. Torch—an arsonist. To blow—starting a fire by means of an explosion. Candle-can—an apparatus made of a candle and tin can used for starting a blaze in a building. Dust off lightly—spraying a building with chemicals before igniting it.

Culver City, home of the M-G-M, Hal Roach and RKO-Pathé studios, now boasts that it has the shortest Main street in the world. It's only 75 yards long.

Large Crowd At Labor Day Exercises In Irvine Park

ATTENDANCE OF 2000 RECORDED AT GATHERING

"Recognizing the right of capital to organize, labor is only asking for a fair share in the distribution of the wealth which it creates, in handing together for its own interests" according to John F. Dalton, of Los Angeles, whose talk highlighted the afternoon program of speeches at the Labor Day celebration and picnic held at Irvine park under the auspices of the Orange County Central Labor union. The speaker is a past president of the State Federation of Labor, president of the Los Angeles Typographical Union and a member of the Los Angeles Board of education.

More than 2000 jammed the park for the all-day program, setting a record for similar gatherings in several years past. There were 22 events on the sports program, with 44 prizes offered to winners by Orange county merchants.

A saving wage eliminating a mere existing competency in old age was named as an objective of worth. "Accomplishments of the past should be a spur to future attainments and the establishment of this objective," he said. Deploping radicalism, Dalton asked the support of all fair minded men in such a program.

Hearers were advised to learn the worth of membership in the union of their craft through unemployment, sick and death benefits, labor protective legislation through the American Federation of Labor, and education of members in their rights as citizens and their duties to humanity. The group was reminded of the American pioneer courage since the first settlements in the country culminating in the respect with which labor is held today. A call for the defense of American institutions through the elimination of radical labor personalities and movements was sounded as small return for the benefits which we enjoy in this country.

Welcoming the record crowd of picnicers, County Supervisor W. C. Jerome also stressed the principles of Americanism evident in those who have worked to bring to a culmination the natural and material developments evident in Orange county attractions.

R. C. Ewing of Anaheim, who also was master of ceremonies, responded on behalf of the labor group.

In tribute to President Roosevelt, Mrs. Esther Lea of Los Angeles praised the activities of the youth movement which will assist in providing higher education for talented younger people of limited financial means. The southern California office for the work will be located in Los Angeles. Assisting in continually lifting standards of living, women of the audience were asked to investigate such possibilities for any worthy youth. A program of education of the public to the needs and aims of labor through contacts made in church, social, and club life was advocated.

"Take a self-inventory of your activities in behalf of labor, then rededicate yourself to the advancement of the labor movement and the good of your fellow men through living the principles of our American democracy," advised Roy Morgan of San Bernardino, concluding speaker on the program. Morgan, representative of the state of California to the International Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers union also extended the greetings of the San Bernardino workers.

A letter from Sheriff Logan Jackson, who had been invited to speak at the gathering was read by R. M. Conkey, secretary of the Central Labor union. Jackson praised the activities of the un-

LUCAS LUCIO

Master of ceremonies at a banquet held this week in honor of Ricardo G. Hill, newly appointed Mexican consul in Los Angeles, and long active in Mexican affairs in Orange county, Lucas Lucio, below, is said to be slated for high rank under the consular service, which gives him credit for maintaining harmony among Mexican residents of the county.

BOND ISSUE TO BUILD SCHOOLS TOPIC OF MEET

The Santa Ana Board of Education will meet this evening to speed preparations for calling a $150,000 bond issue, in connection with the $325,000 high school and Lathrop building program, but the election probably will not be officially called tonight, it was said today.

City Superintendent Frank A. Henderson said he did not expect that all preliminary details would be ready at tonight's meeting, but that the board would spend the evening working them out as far as possible.

Plans call for a bond issue to cover 55 per cent of the cost of the program, which includes completion of the new high school group—block B, block C (the shop), and block E; also erection of a $105,000 auditorium for Lathrop Junior High school.

Mineral Society To Hold Program

FULLERTON, Sept. 3.—Charles Coutts, Santa Ana, vice president of the Westco Company, Ltd., will be the principal speaker at the meeting tonight of the West Coast Mineral society at new headquarters at 312 North Spadra road, according to announcement of A. C. Terrill.

Coutts will discuss "Southern California's Natural Resources." In addition, Charles Knowlton, of Fullerton, and members of his committee will demonstrate gem polishing.

and assured them every cooperation from his office.

A short band concert through the courtesy of C. O. Cartwright of Santa Ana, secretary of the musicians' local, preceded the speeches.

WORK STARTS SOON ON NEW CAJALCO DAM

Preliminary work will be launched this week on one of the largest units of the Colorado River aqueduct project, it was said yesterday at the office of General Manager F. D. Weymouth of the Metropolitan Water District, in Los Angeles.

The work, scheduled at an approximate cost of $6,500,000, will be on the Cajalco dam and reservoir, to be located about 12 miles southwest of Riverside, at the western end of the main aqueduct lines to the Colorado river. It will form the connecting link between the main aqueduct and the distribution system which will carry water to the member cities of the district.

Approximately a half mile long and 185 feet high, Cajalco dam will create a lake three and a half miles long and one and a half miles wide, with a capacity of 100,000 acre feet of water.

It is estimated that more than 7,000,000 cubic yards of excavated material will be moved in the course of building the dam and a dike, which will be erected across the low rim on the north side of Cajalco basin.

WORD OF PROMOTION FOR LUCIO AWAITED

Lucas Lucio, Mexican consular representative in Orange county, today was waiting for word from high Mexican officials regarding the promise of a higher rank for Lucio in this district.

At the banquet held here Sunday night in honor of Ricardo Hill, Mexican consul at Los Angeles, tribute was paid to Lucio by several speakers who credited him with settling many conflicts between Mexican workers and their employers.

Lucio has studied law for the past seven years with the firm of Burke and Colwell, giving special attention to international law and immigration.

TOURISTS SET NEW RECORDS IN LAST MONTH

Nearly 300,000 automobile and stage passengers entered the state of California during August, it was learned yesterday from figures released by A. A. Brock, director of the State Department of Agriculture.

Border Highway inspectors checked 92,221 automobiles and 1656 stages, carrying 291,018 passengers, during the month, Brock said, marking an increase of 17,307 automobiles, and 67,986 persons entering the state over the preceding month, and sets a new all-time high record for California.

Licenses from 43 states, District of Columbia, Canal Zone, Alaska, Hawaii, British Columbia, Mexico and the Republic of Panama were counted.

MIDGET CARS TO RACE AGAIN AT L. A. FAIR

Midget auto racing, which proved so popular with the night throngs at Los Angeles County fair last fall, will again be a major attraction at the big exposition which opens at Pomona on Friday, September 13. Three nights will be devoted to the sport. The first series of speed contests will be on Sunday, September 22, with the next race coming on Saturday, September 28, and the last on Sunday, September 29, the last day of the fair.

Because of the unprecedented number of horse-racing entries, Secretary-Manager C. B. Afflerbaugh announced today that it has been definitely decided to stage three night races during the 17-day program. The night races will be held on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, September 23, 24 and 25. Pari-mutuel betting will be on week day afternoons only, due to state regulations.

Frank Liegner, racing secretary of the Western Fairs association, and veteran starter of harness horse races, will again serve in that capacity at Pomona.

FRIENDS HOLD PICNIC

Those at the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vile and sons, Max and Willard, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vile, of Hemet; Nicholas McCartney, Ralph Vile, J. H. Vile, Miss Etta Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Vile, of Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Schwakofer, of Hemet, Miss "Boots" Dakin and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ott, of Hemet.

WITHOUT A SHOT BEING FIRED

To all intents peace still reigns between Ethiopia and Italy, but already Ethiopia's allies are attacking the Blackshist forces in East Africa. The heat, disease, insects and rain have invalidated home more than 5000 of the expeditionary force, according to some reports. Although not a shot has yet been fired in the struggle, here you see Italian soldiers carrying a comrade on a stretcher to a field hospital station.

GIRL REPORTER WILL REVIEW TRIAL OF REDS

The inside picture of the recent Reds trial in Sacramento will be told at the Summer Open Forum in the Unitarian church this evening by Joyce Evans, girl preacher and sociologist, according to an announcement today by the Rev. Julia N. Budlong, minister of the church.

Miss Evans reported the Red trials last fall for a Y. W. C. A. publication, while she was in Sacramento.

Daughter of an English clergyman who brought his family to a charge at Glendale, the girl remained here when the family went on to the father's new pastorate at Sidney, Australia.

She graduated from Pasadena Junior college and U. C. L. A., then entered the Pacific Unitarian school for the Ministry at Berkeley, where she got her degree "summa cum laude", graduating in 1933. Since then she has been engaged with relief preaching and religious education work, and had just completed a period of relief preaching in Sacramento last fall when the trial of the Reds began. Accordingly she attended the trial as a reporter.

Miss Evans majored in sociology in college and since last fall has been doing case work with a Los Angeles relief agency. When Scripps college opens this fall she will be a house mother at one of the halls.

Tonight's session starts at 7:45 o'clock in the church at Eighth and Bush streets. It will be the last of the Summer Open Forums for the church roofing fund, the Rev. Miss Budlong stated. The series has been most successful and the church is grateful to the general public, the minister said.

A gourmet is one who prefers quality to quantity in his food, while a gourmand is one who looks more to quantity than quality.

MOTOR VEHICLE LAWS GO INTO EFFECT SOON

Members of the California Highway Patrol in Orange county have turned students for a few days until they learn something about the new code, which goes into effect on September 25.

The old motor vehicle laws go out of date at that time, and the new vehicle code goes into effect.

The new laws are more concise, but the numbers of various crimes have been changed. For instance, No. 112, which was driving drunk, has been changed to 501 and 502, the latter being a misdemeanor. Heretofore, state police had no code under which they could charge a man with drunk driving as a misdemeanor. Speeding, formerly No. 113, now is 510 and reckless driving, formerly 121, is now 505. No. 500 is negligent homicide, another new law which will be used in the future instead of manslaughter.

One of the most significant changes in the new law pertains to the reregistering of automobiles from another state into California. Heretofore, a person bringing a car in the state simply had to have his registration from the other state, have it checked with his motor and serial number here and within a few days, the new plates would be forthcoming. Under the new law, the plates are not issued until 30 days later, after the state has checked the car with the state registration bureau in the state from whence the car originally came.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — (UP) — George R. Powell, 75, took a local anesthetic for an operation. During the ordeal he cracked jokes with the doctors and "yodeled" at the nurses. "They almost forgot what they were supposed to do when I started yodeling," he said.

Are You Paying for a WESTINGHOUSE and not getting it?

Home economists prove that by your inability to take advantage of food savings and special prices you are paying for a Westinghouse whether you have one or not.

There are only 19 days of the entire year that give you perfect food protection. The other 346 days you are unable to properly prevent food spoilage without refrigeration. Your Westinghouse pays for itself the year 'round.

—It's better to buy a Westinghouse than to wish you had.

Food-Budget Savings Plan

We have prepared a food-budget savings schedule based upon surveys made by contacting Westinghouse owners, home economists, and government authorities, which actually prove that a Westinghouse Refrigerator is not an expense but really pays for itself in a very short time.

If you have been hesitating to buy your Westinghouse don't delay any longer. Let us prove to you by our Food-Budget Saving Plan that whether you own a Westinghouse or not you are paying for one.

First M. E. Associates Plan Surprise for E. W. Smith Natal Day

Plans for a birthday surprise complimenting E. W. Smith, 1104 French street, were carried to a successful and most enjoyable conclusion Saturday evening, when Mr. Smith found himself honored guest at a garden supper at the home of his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fluke Smith, 2409 Heliotrope drive.

Invited to share what he had supposed was only a family gathering, Mr. Smith arrived at his son's home without suspecting that more elaborate plans were afoot. As the dinner hour approached the host suggested that his father might like to see the folding table which he had just completed in readiness for a contemplated camping trip.

Way was led to the garden where the table was supposed to be ready for inspection. Instead their appearance was greeted by the strains of "Happy Birthday to You" from the throats of some 60 or more of the senior Mr. Smith's friends in the First M. E. church. Almost overcome by the unexpected surprise, the honor guest nevertheless recovered sufficiently to offer a hearty hand-clasp to each one present.

Dinner was served immediately, long tables having been in readiness amidst the lovely flowers and greenery of the garden. Centering the special table where the guest of honor was seated with members of his family, was a huge birthday cake, the gift of the guests, who also provided coffee and ice cream for the dinner menu. The cake was suitably inscribed and to the birthday celebrant was delegated the honor of cutting it. In all he cut 72 slices, a generous piece for each one present.

Toasts were proposed by Leo V. Myers and W. C. Baker. Responding were J. W. Saunby, A. G. Diehl, Fluke Smith, Arthur Pearson, Louis Allen, J. F. Lamp, the Rev. W. H. White and Dr. George A. Warner.

Seated at the guest table with Mr. Smith were his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fluke Smith and children, Miss Medora and Philip Smith; his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harold K. Johnson; his foster daughter and her husband, the Ted Gibbanks, and Tom Carlyle.

Other guests were Dr. and Mrs. George A. Warner and Mrs. Warner's mother, Mrs. Conrad Hassel of Ohio; the Rev. and Mrs. W. H. White, Messrs. and Mesdames Leo V. Myers, Louis Allen, R. E. Brown, C. B. McQuillan, B. A. Knudson, F. W. Wager, Arthur F. Pearson, R. C. Leach, C. M. Halderman, J. S. Metzger, J. C. Plack, W. C. Baker, George W. Townsend, George Faires, P. L. Etchison, E. Beamer.

Mesdames Mary Avery, Eldora Demarest, P. Blower, Ada Nott; the Misses Florence Warner, Jessie Faires, Mary Ruth Faires, Marjorie Metzger, Ella Kennard; Messrs. D. Gilbert Myers, Harvey Brown, P. L. Briney, George Alsbach, J. F. Lamp, Fred Schweitzer, A. G. Diehl, J. W. Saunby, W. D. Baker, Allen Taylor.

Hostess Compliments House-guest At Evening of Cards

In compliment to her cousin, Miss Fritz Wald, who will leave this week for her home in Chicago, Ill., after a six weeks' visit here, Dr. Emma Tannenbaum was hostess Friday evening at an informal farewell gathering of a few intimate friends in her home, 2407 Polanetta street. The evening was spent in playing cards with the honoree herself winning the gaily wrapped prize for high score.

A dessert course of ice cream and cake was served at the conclusion of play to the guests who included Miss Wald and the Misses Audrey Grana, Beatrice Grana, Helen Wilkie, Bluma Hurwitz, Lillian Hurwitz, and Mrs. John Michlin.

When Harold Rickett of Sandusky, Mich., was operated on, doctor found two fully-developed appendices, one on either side of the body. Both were successfully removed.

Young People Exchange Vows in Ontario Church

Already established in their home at 202 North Walnut street, La Habra, Mr. and Mrs. Ward D. Gillman are receiving congratulations from a host of friends learning of their quiet wedding Tuesday, August 27, in Ontario Congregational church, Mrs. Gillman is the former Miss Wilma Paterson of this city and Balboa Beach.

The only guests at the ceremony were the couple's parents, Mrs. Elizabeth Paterson of Balboa Beach, and Mr. and Mrs. William Gillman of Ontario. The bride wore a navy blue suit with matching accessories and a corsage bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley.

A supper at the Hostess House, Ontario, followed the wedding, which took place at 5 o'clock in the evening.

Bridal Couple Depart For North by Airplane

Melvin C. Goodchild and his bride, the former Miss Ruth Potter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn C. Potter, 601 South Lemon street, Anaheim, are spending their honeymoon in San Francisco following their marriage Sunday afternoon, September 1 in Long Beach. Officiating minister was the Rev. W. M. Perry, a retired pastor who 26 years ago united in marriage the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goodchild of La Habra.

The Rev. Mr. Perry's home was setting for the ceremony, which took place at 1 o'clock. Many bright-hued flowers formed a pretty background for the event. The only music was provided by a cantory bird who sang joyously throughout the service.

The bride wore a navy blue wool ensemble trimmed in grey caracul fur. Three gardenias and an orchid formed her corsage bouquet. Wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. Glenn C. Potter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goodchild, Miss Reva Potter and William Goodchild. The family group accompanied the bridegroom and bride to Melody Lane in Los Angeles for a wedding dinner, and later to the United Airport where the new Mr. and Mrs. Goodchild left by airplane for San Francisco. They expect to make the return trip by boat next Sunday.

Mr. Goodchild is assistant superintendent for the Imperial Rock company, and is stationed at Boulder Dam for the present. He and his bride will be temporarily located in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Potter in Anaheim.

The new Mrs. Goodchild, a graduate of Anaheim Union High school, continued her studies at Orange County Business college. She has been employed in the office of the county recorder for the past few years. Mr. Goodchild is a graduate of Fullerton High school.

Surprise Shower
One of the final events preceding the wedding was a surprise shower which members of the Tally Bridge club gave in compliment to the bride-elect. Miss Peggy Paige was hostess in her home, 502 North Zeyn street, Anaheim.

Miss Paige and Mrs. Blenda Swift, who scored first and second high at bridge, received prizes. Others present were club guests, Miss Katherine Dunham and Miss Mary Ellen Chambers, with members including the honoree and Mrs. Lois Kiersey, Mrs. Lucille Wilburn, Mrs. Josephine Lahn, Mrs. Margaret Stedman, Miss Velda Dunham, Miss Potter was showered with lingerie gifts.

Series of Five Parties Comes to Close With Steak Dinner

Bringing to a conclusion a round of patio parties with which they have added charm to the informal summer months, Dr. and Mrs. Frank A. Paterson received a score of guests Saturday evening in their home, 2415 Heliotrope drive.

The secluded dining pergola, separated from the main part of the garden by its latticed walls, was rendezvous for guests at the dinner hour, and a toothsome steak menu was served. There were flowers and all details of service in harmony with the al fresco setting.

Succeeding the dinner hour, guests assembled on the garden side of the wall where a roaring fire on the big stone hearth, exerted such fascination that it was late indeed that they finally sought the home itself where Mrs. Paterson had card tables in readiness.

Then music was suggested, and two favorite artists among the guests, graciously consented to give an impromptu program. One fine composition after another rippled from the fingers of Clarence Gustlin, and one lovely song followed another from the magic throat of Mrs. F. W. Slabough. In view of such entertainment as this, guests disdained the waiting card tables, and then to complete the impromptu program, John A. Tessmann consented to perform some of his amusing feats of legerdemain. So all in all, this concluding event ranged itself with the most successful of the "bridge parties" which Dr. and Mrs. Paterson have presented.

Throughout the series of five, Mrs. Paterson has been showered with lovely flowers, sent by Mrs. Jesse Elliott, Mrs. J. E. Paul, Mrs. Terry E. Stephenson, and other friends. She also has had assistance from time to time, extended by Miss Louise Kaiser, Miss Mabel Trousdell, Mrs. George Raymer, Mrs. Douglas Paterson, Mrs. Lloyd Shearer and Mrs. Jesse Elliott.

Bardwells Return From Three Weeks' Trip North

Arriving Saturday from a three weeks' trip north, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Bardwell, 207 South A street, Tustin, had added 3800 miles to the extensive travels which have marked their summer vacations during the past few years.

They were accompanied by their sister-in-law, Mrs. Florence Harbottle, a teacher in the Silverado school, and enjoyed stops at Mt. Rainier and Crater Lake en route to Goldendale, Ore., where Mrs. Harbottle remained for a visit with relatives while the Bardwells continued north. They went to Seattle, Wash., where they were guests of Mrs. Bardwell's former schoolmates. They enjoyed traveling to Vancouver, B. C. and other scenic spots of the north.

Returning to Goldendale, they were joined by Mrs. Harbottle for a leisurely trip homeward. General Grant and Sequoia National parks were visited by the trio. In Sacramento, they inspected the Capitol buildings.

Last year the Bardwells enjoyed a three weeks' trip, going to Yellowstone National park and middle western points.

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL

EAT AND GROW SLIM
Luncheon

Hot hamburger sandwich with 1 sliced tomato.
1 large sliced peach with ½ teaspoon sugar
Pot of tea with lemon and saccharin.
Calory total—260.
Toast 1 slice of bread, spread with diet mayonnaise, cover with a thin pat of pan-broiled hamburger, a little mustard, salt and pepper. Garnish the sandwich with sliced tomato.

Prepared in quantity, the hamburger sandwiches and tomatoes will please the family. Serve sliced peaches with cream and sugar, cookies or cake, and milk for the youngsters. (The sandwiches are open-facers).

TODAY'S RECIPES
Persimmon Cream Pie
4 very soft, ripe persimmons
2 eggs

½ cup, or more, sugar
1-8 teaspoon salt.
2 cups top milk

—Contributed.
Wash the persimmons, cut in half and scoop out the pulp. Mash it well. Beat eggs with sugar and salt, add milk, then the persimmon pulp. Line a pie tin with rich pastry and give it a preliminary baking of 7 minutes in a very hot oven. If you have a little egg white handy, brush the pastry before pouring in the persimmon custard. Dot the top with 4 teaspoons of butter and bake in a moderate oven until the custard is nicely set. Chill and serve with a spoonful of whipped cream.
Rich and figure-wrecking, but powerful-good!

Listening to two old-timers talking about the things their mothers put up when they were young, I jotted down an idea for conserving persimmons and grapes that sounded pretty swell to me.

Take very ripe, rather small persimmons, or ripe Concord grapes, stemmed and washed. Pack them in quart jars, in layers, each layer covered with a layer of sugar. As the jars are packed, let them stand, shaking the jars down to settle the fruit, then pack as full as possible, sugar finishing the top layer. Jars, of course, should be taken from a boiling bath, tops, etc., thoroughly sterilized. Store in a cool, dark closet and do not use for three months. When the fruit is opened it tastes like fresh fruit in a very rich syrup.

Yesterday I made a small quantity of jam that is just about the last word in flavor and goodness.

I used a 10-cent basket of Damson plums, 5 large Crawford peaches, sliced, and 2 cups of huckleberries (or blueberries). This combination was simmered with a half cup of water until the fruit was well cooked, then for each 6 cups of fruit pulp and juice, 6 cups of sugar were added, the jam brought to a rolling boil, heat reduced to barely simmer the jam until it was slightly jellied along the sides of the kettle (about 1 hour of slow cooking). Try it, I'm sure you'll like the rich flavor and color.

Damson plums and blackberries, precooked, then sugar added in quantities used for my jam, make a delicious conserve. The combination should be one-third berries and two-thirds plum.

Wednesday: Onions, French style and a simple way to make a combination sweet pickle.

Travel Pictures Shown Evening Guests in Weston Home

Guests invited for an informal evening at the S. W. Weston home, Poinsettia street, Friday, were privileged to view four reels of motion picture films taken by Mr. and Mrs. Guy Barp on their automobile tour of Europe last year. Mr. Barp spoke on the various scenes as they appeared, and proved to be well-informed on the political and social situation of the turbulent continent as well as familiar with the scenic details of the old world. Of particular interest at this time were his pictures of the road on which the Belgian King Leopold had his unfortunate accident this week.

Mrs. Weston (Golden Norwood Weston) served light refreshments at the close of the discussion. Rooms of the home were bright with bowls of roses from her garden in which the early part of the evening had been spent visiting.

Sharing the pleasant time with the hosts were Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Smith of Long Beach, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hyde Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Guy Barp and Miss Irene Barp.

The league is a clearing house for people of all religious denominations, for all who desire medical freedom and stand for parental authority," Dr. Workman said. "The evils we combat are of three kinds: First, medical domination of the school children; Second, the use of the school child as an object of experiment on the part of gross theorists; third, legislative aid in combating these evils."

"It should be thoroughly understood that physical examinations and medical treatment are not compulsory in the public schools," he declared.

"The musical portion of tonight's 'Keep Smiling' program will present the voice of John Charles Thomas singing 'Trees', by Joyce Kilmer and Oscar Rasbach.

DOCTORS TALK AT ROTARY ON STERILIZATION

Problems of American population trends and that of eugenic sterilization in particular were subjects of three talks given by Santa Ana medical men before the Rotary club at today's meeting of the group, held at the Green Cat cafe.

The discussion was opened by Dr. Melbourne Mabee, who discussed the "Trend of Population." Dr. Mabee outlined the progress of nations in the rise of civilization, stating as the most pressing and vital American problem that of the rising cost of government, much of which, he stated, is due to the care of dependents.

Feeble-minded Increase
In particular, he said, the growth of the feeble-minded, or otherwise mentally deficient portion of the population is disproportionate, and rising rapidly. At the present time, he said, there are 7000 institutions for the care of delinquents, insane, defectives and other dependents in the United States, all of which are overcrowded, and the total of which can care for little more than half the necessary amount.

The discussion was continued by Dr. Milo K. Tedstrom, who stated that there were 10,000,000 feeble-minded in the nation, 50 per cent of whom were feeble-minded. Fifty per cent of these feeble-minded families, he said, are on Federal relief at the present time.

Problems Presented
He discussed the problem of caring for them, quoting ratios of reproductions and family growth to show that the rate at which the feeble-minded population was increasing, and lowering the mean level of American intelligence.

Eugenic sterilization as the only practicable and efficient means of curbing the growth of feeble-mindedness was advanced by Dr. Edward Lee Russell, who said that 72 per cent of all hospital beds in the United States at the present time are devoted to feeble-minded.

California, Dr. Russell said, was the third state in the Union to adopt a sterilization law, and has been outstanding in its work in this field. Existing laws, he said, need to be liberalized in order to accomplish any lasting good. He outlined the growth of belief in sterilization, and explained the means by which it is done, and the results obtained.

CLEAR MAN CHARGED WITH KILLING DOG

The charge against B. M. Thompson, rancher of East Collins street, Orange, of failure to stop and render aid after the car he was driving ran down and killed a dog, the property of Dr. James L. Farrage, North Main street, Santa Ana, was dismissed today in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court, at the request of Dr. Farrage.

It was understood that an agreement had been made between the defendant and the complaining witness. The case has been pending in the court for the past several days. The crime was asserted to have been committed on August 8, near the Farrage home.

Schoolboys Lose Final Game, 5-2

FULLERTON, Sept. 3.—Fullerton's "Civil War" series ended disastrously for Francis Lemon's Fullerton Schoolboys as his Firemen defeated the scholars 5 to 2, in a holiday exhibition here yesterday.

The contest terminated the activities of the schoolboy nine, composed of youngsters under 20, who have been playing under Lemon's tutelage this summer. Several likely prospects have been uncovered.

FILE APPLICATIONS FOR $4,000,000,000

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—(UP)—States, counties and cities were asked today to have applied already for more than the $4,000,000,000 President Roosevelt has to spend to end the drought by November 1.

Political subdivisions, with the application deadline still 11 days away, offered 6416 projects on which the administration could spend $4,239,481,215 in its drive to employ 3,500,000 jobless persons.

Not all the requests are in. Harold L. Ickes, head of public works, has, for example, 1548 requests totaling $275,566,930 that he hasn't even started through the approval mill.

Only 1239 applications totaling $1,353,169,959 have come from the White House marked "approved, FDR." The rest are pending, most of them slated for the waste-paper basket.

BURY VICTIM OF CRASH TOMORROW

Funeral services for Emilio Armentariz, 518 East 14th street, Santa Ana, fatally injured September 1, when his car struck a tree on Lincoln street between Seventeenth and Santa Clara avenue, will be held from the Methodist church, (Mexican) at First and Garfield streets tomorrow at 3:30 p. m. It was announced today.

Coroner Earl Abbey declared today that time for the inquest into the death of the man had not yet been set. The crash victim leaves a widow, Pantaleon Armentariz.

SEVERAL HURT IN LOS ANGELES RIOT

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Police attempts to disperse a crowd of more than 100 demonstrators from the front of the Los Angeles Examiner building precipitated a riot today in which one policeman was slugged and several other persons injured.

Officers said the crowd had gathered to protest against the editorial policies of the newspaper. A squad of officers sought to disband the group but the crowd resisted. In the ensuing clash, Patrolman George Gentil of the metropolitan squad was beaten over the head but not seriously injured.

Several demonstrators also were given hospital treatment for bruises and other minor hurts.

ARMIES OF EUROPE IN DEMONSTRATION

PARIS, Sept. 3.—(UP)—The phantom of war, which has brooded grimly over Europe since Mussolini warned the world that he would not be turned away from his adventure in Africa, took on realistic substance today as France, Germany, Austria and Spain launched military maneuvers on a scale unequalled since 1918.

Hundreds of thousands of men took part in the display of armed strength, the most impressive since the former Austrian lance corporal, Adolf Hitler, repudiated the treaty of Versailles and summoned German youth to the colors by his universal conscription decree.

OIL CONCESSION NOT TO CHANGE U. S. ATTITUDE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—(UP)—The attitude of the United States toward the threatened Italo-Ethiopian conflict will not be altered as a result of the reported concession granted an American concern, Secretary of State Cordell Hull said officially and emphatically today.

In response to newspaper inquiries Hull said it had been difficult to obtain full details concerning the reported concession, especially inasmuch as this government had not been consulted or informed by those interested.

Has No Effect
Sufficient information had been received, however, Hull said, to state that regardless of what the nature of this concession may be it will not affect the attitude or policy of this government.

"It has not thus far been possible to secure the full facts relative to the reported oil concession transaction in Ethiopia," Hull said.

"A sufficient amount of information, however, has been received to enable us to say definitely that, whatever the nature of this transaction may prove to be, either commercially or politically or both, the attitude and policy of this government toward the controversy between Italy and Ethiopia will be maintained hereafter, just as it would have been maintained had this reported oil transaction not occurred."

"The central point in the policy of this government in regard to the Italian and Ethiopian controversy is the preservation of peace—to which policy every country throughout the world is committed by one or more treaties—and we earnestly hope that no nations will in any circumstances be diverted from this supreme objective."

Make Many Contacts
Contacts with former Santa Anans now living on the Islands proved of interest to Mayor and Mrs. Rowland and their daughter, Mrs. O. W. Robinson, (Isabel Smiley), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Smiley, North Flower street, Mrs. Chauncey Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Warner, Willis street, and Mrs. Walter McCleery were among those who entertained the Rowlands.

Mayor and Mrs. Rowland and their daughter were enthusiastic over the airplane trip they took to Hilo, where they spent three days, and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Crawford. They were especially impressed with the view of the islands, and with the variable colors of the ocean as seen from the air. The Alexander Young hotel in Honolulu was the headquarters for the Rowland family.

The homeward trip on the President Coolidge, with the enjoyment of sitting at the captain's table; the arrival in San Francisco Wednesday, with a warm welcome extended by many friends and relatives; are among the many experiences which have marked the trip for California's queen, for her mother, Mrs. Rowland, and for Santa Ana's Mayor.

Chertok said he and his backers did not expect any protection in their venture from the American government in case of war in Ethiopia.

'Denial Issued'
NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Standard Oil of California today joined the list of American firms denying an interest in the deal to which Francis Rickett, British promoter, obtained a huge oil and mineral concession in Ethiopia.

James A. Moffett, vice president, said he had never heard of the African Exploration and Development corporation, ostensible backers of the promoter.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Leo Y. Chertok, Russian-born New York business man, and his American backers, have adequate resources and are going to exercise their option to exploit the mineral rights of Ethiopia in exchange for a $1,000,000 loan, Chertok said today.

He refused to name his backers, but said they were widely known American interests — "definitely not any of the Standard Oil companies."

BARBARA RESTS AT HOME AFTER LONG JOURNEY

Santa Ana's own Barbara Rowland, more widely-acclaimed as California's Sweetheart and Rodeo Queen, today was experiencing the pleasures of relaxation from the thrills and responsibilities of a much-feted queen. Returning last night in company with her parents, Mayor and Mrs. F. C. Rowland, Barbara had concluded a two weeks' trip encompassing more events than the average young girl can ever hope to experience.

Winning her trip to Honolulu when she was judged California's queen and outdoor girl at the Salinas rodeo this summer, Miss Rowland was accorded honors in her home city, in San Francisco and in other points before leaving for the Islands. In Honolulu she received the Key to the City in the form of a lei of hibiscus blooms, and was welcomed by Governor Poindexter.

Presents City Key
In Sacramento last Saturday, Miss Rowland had the privilege of presenting the city's key to Governor Frank P. Merriam of California. Wearing her riding habit, as she did at the Salinas rodeo, and for other events in which she has since taken part, Miss Rowland participated in opening features at the State Fair, and later in the day gave a short talk when she was introduced from the speaker's stand.

Miss Rowland is completing arrangements to enter Scripps college, where she will be a freshman student. She is reported making a nice recovery from injuries incurred in a surfboard fall during the last day of her stay in Honolulu. The extent of the injuries will not be determined until X-rays are taken this week.

DAMAGE TRIAL IS DELAYED BY DEATH

The death of Fred Burlew, young Santa Ana aviator, in an airplane crash Sunday night, today indirectly caused postponement of a trial in superior court, where his father, Dr. J. M. Burlew, was a material witness.

Dr. Burlew could not be in court, and the $1,500 damage suit brought by William Johnson against the Richards Trucking and Warehouse company, was accordingly postponed to September 23.

Johnson sued for damages on account of injuries he received in an automobile crash on the La Habra Buena Park road last November 2.

CALL SOLDIERS IN FLORIDA ELECTION
TAMPA, Fla., Sept. 3.—(UP)—A National Guard company was deployed over the city today to guard polling places in the municipal election after a special policeman was shot and five county deputies clubbed in an election disturbance.

The clash came as a crowd in the street booted election officials. Mayor R. E. L. Chancey, seeking re-election, is opposed by former Mayor D. B. McKay. Factions have lined up in the mayoralty race to make it one of the bitterest campaigns in recent years.

The mobilization order was regarded as a warning to the contending political factions in the election controversy. Sheriff's officers Sunday night arrested 28 men on unlawful assembly charges.

THOMAS OVERTON CALLED BY DEATH
Thomas Riley Overton, 73, of 1518 West Third street, died yesterday at his home, following an illness of two days. Mr. Overton, who was a carpenter, was a native of Missouri, and had lived in Santa Ana for the past 22 years.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Jessie Overton, and one sister, Mrs. Charles Cozad, of Santa Ana.

Announcement of funeral services will be made later by the Harrell and Brown mortuary.

The county supervisors today granted a permit to the state division of forestry for construction of a telephone line between the Yorba Linda state fire station and the Gilman peak lookout.

Starting as an office boy, Toplitzky worked his way to the top of the local real estate field. His developments included the new Blinnmore Hotel, the new Orpheum Theater and the Bank of America building. He was regarded as one of the leading market operators in the country, and reputedly was several times a millionaire.

He is survived by his wife, two daughters and three brothers, all of Los Angeles.

BURGLARS FAIL TO CRACK SAFE OPEN
Burglars last night went through the skylight of the Sears-Roebuck store on North Main street, but failed to escape with any loot, it was reported today to police. Forty-three secretaries of state of the United States have been lawyers.

Local Briefs
Orange county avocados tied for second prize at the California State Fair, it was learned today when awards were announced in Sacramento. Ventura county won first prize. Orange and Santa Barbara counties sharing second place.

August saw 405 brides and grooms obtaining marriage licenses in Orange county, thus establishing a record August total for the last several years. In August, 1934, there were 399 licenses issued, according to records of County Clerk J. M. Backs.

Awarding of the county's contract for supplying gravel for road jobs was delayed a second time today, by the absence of Supervisor Leroy Lyon, who is in Washington. The board has had the bids under advisement for two weeks, awaiting Lyon's return, and today postponed the award to September 17.

COUNTY FAIR MONEY TURNED BACK BY BOARD

The county supervisors today informally identified to Assemblyman James B. Utt that if the 32nd agricultural district of the state, which is identical with Orange county in its boundaries, should award this county $2500, or any other sum, as a cash premium for its exhibits at the Los Angeles county fair, the supervisors would hand the money back to the agricultural district.

This, Utt explained, would be merely a means of converting an appropriation to the agricultural district that is earmarked for premium awards into funds that can be used for other fair expenses.

Each agricultural district, he said, receives from the state an allotment of race track receipts double the amount that the district awards for premiums. But the allotment can be used only for premiums, he said. The balance not awarded by the district is held in reserve for premiums the following year.

The 32nd district is contributing its funds toward expenses of the Los Angeles county fair since there is no local fair this year.

Utt made it clear that there would be no premium offered to this county for an exhibit, unless there was an understanding that it would be returned to the district.

The last session of the legislature, he said, passed a law providing that race track funds allotted to the districts could be used for any purpose connected with a fair, but Governor Merriam failed to sign the bill. Such a measure undoubtedly will be passed again at the next session, he said.

Rain Helps Clear Deer Hunter Of Illegal Shooting

A heavy rainstorm in the mountains probably prevented Victor Salaets, Irvine rancher, from being found guilty of violation of the hunting laws, in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court today.

Evidence in the case indicated that Salaets shot a deer, which was the first one he ever shot, and that soon afterwards a heavy storm enveloped White Water canyon, where the animal was killed.

He tagged the deer, according to law, but removed the tag to keep it from getting wet.

The state contended that he violated the law in moving the deer without the tag on it. Justice Morrison stated that although there was a technical violation, that there was no intent, and dismissed the case against the defendant.

The complaining witness was W. L. Hare, game warden.

Golden Wedding Couple Honored at Picnic In Long Beach

The 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Pollard, of Tustin, and Mrs. J. C. Smith, of Redlands, daughters of the honored couple.

A bountiful picnic dinner was shared at 12:30 o'clock at a prettily decorated table. Included in the last course of the menu was a large wedding cake, loaf in yellow and white with "Golden Anniversary" written on top. Many gifts were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Nelson during the social afternoon. The honored couple are maintaining open house this afternoon and evening at their home.

THE WHISTLING LANGUAGE—IN THE CANARY ISLANDS, NATIVES OF GOMERA CARRY ON CONVERSATION WHILE KISSING, SIMPLY BY WHISTLING!

Not a code, but an actual language, is whistled back and forth among the hills of Gomera Island in the Canaries by natives who are able to carry on whistling conversations over distances up to three or four miles.

The basis of this whistling language is Spanish. Words and phrases are whistled rather than spoken and may be borne great distances. The sounds are perfectly intelligible to one not acquainted with the language. No instrument of any kind is used.

The language owes its origin probably to the mountainous nature of the island. Distances comparatively close together by air line cannot be reached by foot without traversing canyons and valleys. Hence the need for a simple means of long distance communication. Strange as it seems, the whistling language is not entirely peculiar to this island. Characters of the Paris underworld sometimes use a poorly developed whistling language to communicate with each other when secrecy is needed.

The little church at the foot of James Bay in northern Ontario has holes in the floor so that flood waters may enter the building freely. There is good reason for this strange fact. Before they put holes in the floor flood waters used to float the church away like a boat. Members of the congregation decided that it was easier to clean up the dirt left by receding water than to bring the building back from somewhere downstream—therefore, the precaution.

U. S. "ON THE SPOT" OVER STANDARD OIL'S "LONG SHOT"?

Harry Carr, writing in the Los Angeles Times, suggests that if it be true that the Standard Oil has obtained oil concessions in Abyssinia, this puts the United States "on the spot" and we will be in the war. He supports this idea with the suggestion that "the wife of some navy man had whispered to him something about trouble."

Harry is always "learning" something concerning some solemn occasion from some secret whispering of "somebody who is the wife or daughter or son or husband of some one else" who is very important and might possibly, by chance, know something about the situation.

But we would suggest to the mothers, who are alarmed by the idea that the United States will go to war over concessions that have been granted Standard Oil, which it obtained in the very midst of war preparations between Abyssinia and Italy, that the people of the United States have not entirely lost their reason and they are not going to do anything of the kind.

No doubt whatever Standard Oil received in Abyssinia, as the Italian army was approaching, it received at bargain prices. It received these at bargain prices, because whatever it paid was a "long shot" being taken that some way or other it could maintain the right to them later on.

In other words, it was a bet with the chances against them, and Standard Oil knew it. Whatever Abyssinia received from it, was with the thought that it was that much more than she would get if Italy took it by force.

We recall the story of Joseph and "Iky" being together in a railroad coach when a highwayman suddenly opened the door in the front of the car, and with his gun pointed at the passengers, said: "Stick 'em up!" But before doing so, Joseph took $200 from his pocket and slipped it over to "Iky" and said: "Here's that $200 I owed you." Joseph would rather have "Iky" lose the money than lose it himself. That debt was to be paid.

We do not know how this transaction would hold in law, whether the highwayman, under such circumstances, was taking Iky's money or Joseph's money. But we do know that the people of the United States are not going to have something given to them, which means a war on their hands, just to help a corporation that has deliberately taken the chances based on the hope that our young men may be driven to battle.

It is reaching the point where the nation should maintain that investments, which are made in foreign countries, must be made at the risk of the investor and he should subject himself to the laws of those countries, whatever they may be, and whoever may have control.

We are through sending our sons to be destroyed on the battlefield, and thousands returned broken in body and health, in order to insure hazardous investments made by big corporations, with the full knowledge of the risks which they incur.

We doubt if America would go to war today if these concessions had been made years ago. Certainly it will not do it under such circumstances as these.

There has been the constant contention for many days that our wars are simply to protect foreign-invested capital and now we have the searchlight turned on the transaction in such a manner that "those who run may read."

And incidentally, this is done at the very time when the Standard Oil company reduces the price of crude oil here in the West 50 cents a barrel and a conference of oil producers is being called, looking toward the shutting down entirely of the production in some of the oil fields in California.

No, we are rather inclined to believe that this powerful institution can fight its own battles in Abyssinia and we are almost sorry for both Abyssinia and Italy if the Standard gets in good working order over there.

THE SUGGESTION OF COLONEL KNOX

Colonel Frank Knox of the Chicago Daily News is out "making hay" for the nomination for President on the Republican ticket and his assertions are both interesting and amusing.

He declares that it costs $1.80 today to buy the same necessities you could have purchased for $1.00 three years ago at your corner grocery.

We haven't checked up on these identical figures. We certainly would not credit them with full truth from the source from which they have been uttered.

But we do know that we would rather have food costing $1.80 and have the $1.80 to pay for it than have it cost $1.00, without any money in our pockets, the banks closed and 12 to 15 million men walking the streets, jobless and hungry.

It is difficult to bring back prosperity on a falling market. The fact of it is that when men have to sell for less today than they could have received for the goods yesterday, they find they haven't money to pay their bills which they incurred day before yesterday.

We would rather suggest to Colonel Knox that the less that he reminds the people of the country of conditions three years ago, in comparison with today, the more enthusiasm he may be able to generate.

Different people enjoy different things. Some exhibit themselves as sword-swallowers and others by disjoining themselves at different joints.

Some may enjoy the implied suggestion of Colonel Knox that we go back to the conditions of 1932. Just let those who enjoy those conditions, like the sword-swallowers and the "India-rubber men," try to produce that condition,—we're going to try to avoid it.

THE PRIMARY QUALIFICATION FOR TEACHERS IN ROCKFORD, ILL.

News comes now from Rockford, Illinois, that the superintendent of schools there is putting the primary qualification for the teacher the same as they would have for the "Follies"—she must be good-looking.

The superintendent declares that one glimpse of an applicant is sufficient in many cases, to disqualify her from further consideration as a teacher.

He by no means desires to have the impression get abroad that he is opposed to brains in teachers, but without beauty, the brains cannot function in his school.

Wouldn't it be wonderful if this should become generally the case throughout the country, that teachers would be selected only from among the beauties?

Of course, it seems to us that somebody should pass upon the students themselves, as they are preparing for life's work, and those who haven't a chance, or little chance, of being teachers because of plain looks, should be branded. We do not know just what occupation would be the one for them to enter, though they might be nurses at institutions for the blind.

And then those who have a little more avoirdupois than some of the rest are precluded in New York. This superintendent, we believe, would rather improve upon the Lord Himself in the creation of people.

We recall, in the days of our grammar schools, a number of teachers. There was only one whom, as we think back upon it, was exceedingly homely. But she certainly did know her grammar and arithmetic. And she made us know it.

Of course, it depends upon what you are trying to produce in school. If you are trying to produce beauties, impress upon the parents that beauties must be born or they are handicapped.

And then teach the young people that beauty is the badge of advancement. Of course the life, into which these young people must enter, of science, of industry, of medicine and of keen competition, where the best brains are needed, in most cases doesn't let things be determined on beauty.

In fact, in a few years, beauty is discarded, where beauty is alone the basis of judgment. And the qualities and virtues of life that live and achieve are the ones which are more than skin-deep and that determine real values.

Relief Roll Shift Shows Industry Absorbing Labor

San Francisco Chronicle

Statistics often serve the purpose of ponderously proving the obvious.

A recent national survey of unemployment by FEPA is a case in point. This study shows that skilled, semiskilled and unskilled workmen are moving off the relief rolls, while the white collar class is taking their places on the rolls and keeping up the total at a fairly even figure. This white collar class includes professional men, small proprietors and the salaried workers.

It is natural that with the pick-up of industry the industrial workers, both skilled and unskilled, should find places in much larger numbers than the so-called white collar men. They constitute the largest element of labor. Most factories and business can take up the slack with small, if any, increase in office force.

The figures, do, however, show that despite many individual exceptions, the class groupings remain. It constitutes a practical upset of the old classical economic concept of the mobility of labor. In the mass labor is static within the groups.

This also rebuts the popular pick and shovel theory of relief work. Aside from being uneconomical it does not meet the situation.

Undoubtedly this has been one of the difficulties in getting the $4,000,000,000 works relief under way. Instead of physically useful projects more and more of the purely "make-work" projects for the white collar class are being undertaken. This is proper enough if it is frankly called by its right name. Many of the surveys, censuses, cultural and entertainment projects are merely polite relief.

It is interesting to note, however, that when industry finds its stride it takes care of all classes. In a survey of a dozen representative cities, Detroit shows the greatest drop from the relief rolls of the skilled, the semiskilled, the unskilled and the white collar workers. That is easily explainable by the leadership taken by the automobile industry in beating back to good times.

The FEPA itself proves that the revival of industry is better than all the boondoggling that Harry Hopkins' numerous staff can think up. But that also was obvious before any statistics were gathered.

A Mighty Indictment

Santa Barbara Daily News

With war clouds again forming in Europe the Mark Twain Centennial committee appropriately recognizes this as a good time to recall the little "war prayer" written nearly thirty years ago by the American humorist.

Of the prayer, Mark Twain said, "I have told the whole truth in that prayer, and only dead men can tell the truth in this world. It can be published after I am dead."

Here it is:

"O Lord our God, help us to tear their soldiers to bloody shreds with our shells; help us to cover their smiling fields with the pale forms of their patriot dead; help us to drown the thunder of the grounds with the wounded, writhing in pain; help us to lay waste their humble homes with hurricane of fire; help us to wring the hearts of their unoffending widows with unavailing grief; help us to turn them out rootless; with their little children to wander unfriended through wastes of their desolated land in rags and hunger and thirst, spurned of the sun flames of summer and the icy winds of winter, broken in spirit, worn with travail, imploring Thee for the refuge of the grave and denied it—for our sakes, who adore Thee, Lord, blast their hopes, blight their lives, protract their bitter pilgrimage, make heavy their steps, water their way with their tears, stain the white snow with the blood of their wounded feet! We ask of One who is the spirit of love and who is the ever-faithful refuge and friend of all that are sore beset and seek His aid with humble and contrite hearts. Grant our prayer, O Lord, and Thine shall be the praise and honor and glory, now and ever. Amen."

More Truth Than Poetry

UNFRIENDLY FRIENDS

When first I heard that lady bugs,
Whose teeth are very keen,
Would decimate the wicked slugs
Which menace my demesne,
I bought a crate of them at once
And set them all afoot free,
That they might go different fronts
And do a job for me.
"Go bare your fangs, and bite," I said,
"Till all these enemies are dead."

With joy I watched the army grow
And fall upon its prey,
It slew a million slugs or so
Before the close of day.
And when the pests had all been slain
They hadn't had their fill,
But started touring my domain
For other things to kill.
Without observing, "If you please,"
They gulped my beans and walloped my peas.

Around my yard they dug their nests,
They waxed uncouth and rough,
And, presently, invited guests
To help them do their stuff.
My erstwhile friends became my foes;
They waged a winning war,
And not a blade of lawn grass grows
Where thousands grew before.
Today, there's nothing left but dew
Where once a lovely garden grew.

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLENN FRANK

THE BRAKES OFF RECOVERY!

For the time being at least some of the more grinding brakes are off recovery.

The economic curves are starting upward in a more than gratifying manner.

Measured against the same time last year, factory production is up, employment it up, payrolls are up, agricultural prices are up.

Normally at this period of the year a drop would be expected. It has not materialized. On the contrary an upswing continues.

There are, I think, two major explanations of this.

In the first place, the strength of the more naive economists who "ural" recovery are beginning to crack through the dam.

I have never entered the camp of the more naive economists who believe that it is either wise or possible, under modern circumstances, to let depressions cure themselves by the drastic method of uncontrolled deflation. Depressions that are man made may be man cured. I have no doubt that this depression would have cured itself by the classic formula of letting everything sink to the bottom until there was no direction in which things could go but up. We might, however, have had no social order left when recovery came. Nevertheless there are what may be called "natural" forces of recovery that work away regardless of what we do or do not do. These forces have been at work. They have, in many instances, been retarded by some things we have done, but they have not been killed.

In the second place, the retarding effect of uncertainty regarding what the New Deal might mean next has been modulated at least by the recent Supreme Court decisions.

There is everywhere a feeling that, even if the Supreme Court makes a grave mistake now and then on the side of undue conservatism respecting new moves, it stands as a safeguard against hasty legislation that will alter the foundations of the national being. Copyright, 1935, McClure Newspaper Syn.

GOING TO SCHOOL

The schools are opening. This annual reunion of teachers and pupils has become so familiar that its meaning is overlooked. Nothing in the life of this people is as important as the opening of the schools. It is the mobilization of the youth of a nation in preparation for the great advance against ignorance, disease and error. Without drums and fifes, without a shouting and rattling of the warlike army of the military, this peaceful army, this most powerful of all armies, marches into its schools and opens the books.

When this hopeful host enters the schools this fall will they find them ready? We insist that all children go to school, but we have not reached the stage where we insist that every school provide for the educational needs of every child within its doors. This seems to me to be the clear duty of every community through its Board of Education. It is useless, it is cruel, to force children and teachers to go through motions that are futile, yet that is what is done when schools are not prepared to serve the pupils adequately.

By adequate service I mean clean, airy, well-lighted, well-ventilated and heated buildings. Well-trained and adequately paid teachers in sufficient numbers to take care of the children without hurry or without waste. Plenty of supplies. Plenty of varied activities provided for in shops and laboratories and play spaces. A flexible course of study that will allow the teachers to give the children the right kind of work when they need it.

This sounds expensive, but it need not be prohibitive. Any school board can organize its school system and its funds so as to provide all that is necessary with a slight increase in its tax rate. We have taxed the people for everything under the sun, and still the schools go begging. Give the children their share, (I don't say their fair share) and the schools can offer an education that will function in the life of the people.

I hope this little story will make the point clear. A fourteen-year-old boy insisted on getting working papers. There was no work. He would stay on the streets for he knew no law but his own will. The officer took him to a well-equipped school and he was given a program.

"I'm not going to do any work. You might as well know that right now."

"What's the use, son? The law says school for you. Isn't it better to be here than in some other places you know about? Pick your program and get busy."

He made out his program similar to the one offered him and selected a shop. He was turned out of five shops one after the other because he declined to attend. "I don't read," said he. "As you like," said the librarian. "Maybe you would like to help arrange the shelves?"

He began. He opened a book and stood looking at it. He took it to a corner and read it. It was a book about pigeons. He wrote a book about pigeons, printed it in the shop, (the one he had stormed out of a short time back), illustrated it, and bound it. He is doing very well, thank you.

But suppose the school had not been ready for him?
